- How do I prove/let FedRAMP know I when I am compliant with the Consolidated Rules for 2026 Ruleset
- I am FR Certified, my Annual Assessment is scheduled Nov 2026, what should I do?
- My Initial Assessment is scheduled for May 14 2027, what should I expect?

Common Questions/Scenarios for CR26

- What does the 11 June 2027 Deadline for Rev5 actually mean?

If your package is not in “FedRAMP in Process” by 11 June 2027, it will NOT receive a certification under Rev5.

- This includes both new package submissions and uplifts of existing packages.
 - Independent Assessment must be complete
 - Agency must have submitted an ATO
 - Required Consolidated Rules for 2026 must be implemented

Common Questions/Scenarios for CR26

- What does the 11 June 2027 Deadline for Rev 5 actually mean?
- How do I prove/let FedRAMP know I when I am compliant with the Consolidated Rules for 2026 Ruleset
Some Rulesets require notification. CDS-CSF-TCM requires you to "Notify FedRAMP via email: info@fedramp.gov"
Others, we will request your implementation status at various points through the FSI process.
The evidence of your transition for most of these will be prevalent in your trust center or repo.
Adopting Rulesets may change existing processes and count as a Significant Change... notify your customers
- I am FR Certified, my Annual Assessment is scheduled Nov 2026, what should I do?

You will still need an AA. Understand what Rulesets are required by your planned submission timeline, not your scheduled start time. This should be the target for your AA.
- My Initial Assessment is scheduled for May 14 2027, what should I expect?
- I am "Agency In Process," SAP/SAR done, waiting for agency review, they say it will happen Feb 2027. What should I expect?

Common Questions/Scenarios for CR26

- What does the 11 June 2027 Deadline for Rev 5 actually mean?
- How do I prove/let FedRAMP know I when I am compliant with the Consolidated Rules or 2026 Ruleset
- I am FR Certified, my Annual Assessment is scheduled Nov 2026, what should I do?
- My Initial Assessment is scheduled for May 14 2027, what should I expect?

Disappointment. The chance of you completing an independent assessment, gaining an Agency ATO, and submitting your package to FedRAMP in 28 days is highly unlikely. This is a risky business decision on your part.

- I am "Agency In Process," SAP/SAR done, waiting for agency review, they say it will happen Feb 2027. What should I expect?

Agency ATO timelines vary greatly based on backlog, package maturity, and CSP's ability to respond. Work with your agency to establish completion timelines as FedRAMP will not accept new packages after 11 June 2027.

Common Questions/Scenarios for CR26

- If you email info@ with a generic questions best suited for the discussion forum, you will receive a redirect with a request to post there
- If you email info@ with a question that has been answered or is in the rules, you will just get a response with a link

RFC-0032 Offerings By Government

- The FedRAMP Certification process is designed to establish a standardized process for commercial cloud services operated by private companies to assure agencies that their information will be protected.
- Government run CSPs are subject to all statutory and policy requirements for federal information systems by default
- Specific rulesets within the Consolidated Rules for 2026 are generally unnecessary for a cloud service that is operated by a federal agency
- FedRAMP will establish an Offerings by Government Ruleset:
 - Exempt agency cloud service providers from FedRAMP Rules except those in the Offerings By Government ruleset
 - Ruleset deviation is subject to Agency approval
 - Agency CSPs MUST have an ATO (no program certification paths)
 - Agencies must provide their own trust centers
